OKLAHOMA ASSOCIATION OF CONSERVATION DISTRICTS

DEVELOPING THE NEXT GENERATION OF CONSERVATIONISTS

The Oklahoma Association of Conservation Districts has been proud to welcome high school students from around the United States to Oklahoma for the National Land and Range Judging Competition to experience one of the longest running 4-H and FFA events in the country.

Each year we welcome over 1,200 people to Oklahoma to participate and volunteer for the contest. Our participants typically come from between 35 - 45 states.

The contest consists of 3 contests:

- Land Judging
- Range Judging
- Homesite

HOW THE CONTESTS WORK

To attend the NLRJ contest, competitors must qualify in the top 5 of their state. Our contestants represent the best of the best students in agriculture. The contest is held over a 4 day period in El Reno, OK. Providing abundant opportunities to visit with natural resource professionals, teachers, and agriculture students. Culminating in the official contest being held Thursday morning followed by the awards banquet that evening.

THE NEED

Sponsorships are essential to ensure the cost of hosting a national competition are not passed onto FFA & 4-H teams, inhibiting their ability to participate. The NLRJ contest equips the next generation of conservationists to pursue a degree in Natural Resources Ecology Management and builds a pipeline for future conservation professionals.
